Art Unit: 3738

This application does not contain an abstract of the disclosure as required by 37 CFR 1.72(b). An abstract on a separate sheet is required.

Claims 28 and 30-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the Applicant regards as the invention. In claim 28, lines 3-4 lack syntax. In claim 31, line 2, "the circumference" lacks a proper antecedent basis. Other errors were noted.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 35-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Simpson et al., US 5,076,684, which discloses an implant 40 (column 1, lines 13-17) comprising multiple sections 46, 48, 50, 52, 54 having substantially different cross-sections (Figure 4; column 2, lines 39-53; column 5, lines 52-56; column 6, line 14; etc.). Because of the materials typically used for artificial corneas and intralamellar implants, the modulus of elasticity being less than 500 psi is inherent.

Claims 23, 24, 28, and 30-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Silvestrini et al., US 5,300,118. Attention is directed to Figures 11A and 11B and to column 10, lines 14-27.

Art Unit: 3738

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the parent application prior to the filing of this Continued Prosecution Application under 37 CFR 1.53(d) and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing under 37 CFR 1.53(d). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
